	Total 103 Shipped to-day 200e, Stock on hand 103
	The first bale of new cotton from Tipton county, in this State, was received today by S. E. Johnson & Co, of 214 Front street. It came from the plantation of J.
	R. McCall, Esq., who is one of the best planters in the State, and who has sent to market the first bale from his county for the past four years, including the "first bale" from the State for two years.
	'Squire McCall, though recently mixed
Ş.	up with polities, has not neglected his farm, which is one of the finest in Tennes

weighed over 400 pounds, and, of course was acknowledged by the customary five gallen demijohn of choice old Bourbon or Robertson County.

The United States Economist of a late date, in a well considered article, says of he cotton supply: Granting that the East India and the United States may make full average crops of cotton, the most favorable production cannot supply the dendiency, say for the crop of the cotton year 1829:

Bales last India, more than last year....1,500,000 230,000 urkey, Levant, etc..... 12,500 707,500

faking a liberal estimate of.......5,000,000 for the production of the world, while the consumption is over 5,000,000, leaving the consumption is over 6,000,000, leaving the apparent deficit in supply in the "raw insterial" over 1,000,000 bales of cotton at the end of the present year.

How to increase the cotton yield of the South is a highly important question, not only for that section, but for the whole country. With a full yield of cotton at fair prices, we can control the trade of the world in this respect and hence the whole world in this respect, and hence the whole energies of the nation should be directed to building up the cotton interests of the belt of States producing this important article of trade and commerce.

The commercial year opened with bright prospects and a better feeling pervading the whole community than has been noticeable since the war. The crop nows is somewhat conflicting. Many planters declare that they will not make more than half the corn or cotton they expected; but we think that without further disaster occurs, the cotton crop will tax the picking capacity of our people to the utmost to gather. The signs are that we they want. shall have a larger wheat crop and a smallor corn and oat crop than last year. In respect to other important cereals it is difcuit at this juncture to cull the truth from the many speculative reports that was well received by our readers, and for find their way over the telegraph wires the many flattering evidences of appre- and into print. So far as we can judge, the out look is good. Peace and plenty

The rice crop of Louisiana this year is stimated at not less than 70,000 barrels, Before the war tips average was not above 10,000 barrels. The swamps on both sides he river are well adapted to its grawth, irrigation is easy, and the sea breezes reuder the rice plantations comparatively free from the sickness which characterizes the plantations of South Carolina and leorgia. So rapid is the igcrease of projuction that steam mills are being erected in New Orleans, and every modern improvement in the way of gathering the crop and preparing it for commerce is being introduced. It is confinently expected that this region in a few years will be capable of supplying the United States with this important article of food.
